KIRA FERCHO

KIRA GETTING "CHEEKY" WITH "POPPY".

Welcome to The Grove Hotel in beautiful downtown Boise, Idaho. If the lobby is the face to the hotel, my original oil paintings are the eyebrows. And girls, we all know how important beautifully shaped eyebrows are. When Ann Jackson of Jackson & Company asked me to create original oil paintings for her project, I jumped at the opportunity. Over several months, I was privileged to work with Ann as she pulled together the lobby design. She would share swatches of the carpet, upholstery, and her preliminary drawings. Slowly but surely, we created the "face of The Grove Hotel". I know you'll find it as warm and welcoming as we do.

FRONT LEFT

POPPY 6ft x 4ft

"Poppy" is the name of Ann Jackson's beloved dog. You'll find this in the lobby of The Grove. Poppy is a bear painting that is more of a female portrait than anything else. She is quiet, thoughtful, and contemplative. She is enjoying the moment in the moment. - Kira

FRONT RIGHT

HOPE 6ft x 4ft

"Hope" is about my life in the north. Parts of our winter drag on and on. And just as soon as I think that I cannot take another day of snow, I will notice something in nature that will give me hope. This day, it was a flock of Canada Geese that broke up the quiet compression of winter. I am thankful for this hope. - Kira
