PROTOCOL FOR SUSPECTED CASES OF INFECTION WITH COVID-19

Actions of detection on guests:

At Best Western Hotels, we guarantee that we have taken all the measurements to prevent the spreading of infection with Covid-19 from the moment of check-in and throughout your stay.

In we detect a possible case:

1. All of our employees have the correct information and are trained on our We Care Clean program.
2. In case we suspect the infection on any of our guests, we will validate the symptoms and the case is going to be reported to our Biosecurity Committee, so we can activate the respective protocol. For this, we will measure your temperature with a digital thermometer.

Guest at check-in

We inform our guests about our biosecurity protocol and recommendations of prevention during their stay so they can feel that they are in safe hands. We have shortened the check-in process by letting them know previously our payment methods, frequency of payments and the measurements of control to take during their stay.

Guest in-house

If the guest shows any symptoms related to Covid-19, he has to avoid walking around the hotel facilities. The guest has to inform the concierge and/or the maid about their health status and the respective protocol will be activated immediately. Therefore, we will report the case to the responsible entity, they will define if the guest has to be hospitalized or is allowed to stay at the hotel with the following recommendations.

- The guest has to comply with the current sanitary rules.
- The guest has to remain inside his room with the door closed and the windows open.
- The guest has to make use the facemask whenever he is receiving any food and beverages services.
- The guest cannot receive visitors during his isolation time.
- The guest has to inform about any change on his health status so we can provide him with proper medical care.

“Preventive isolation is very important”
