

MORTIMER'S

Make The ‘M’ Moment Count

In the 1880’s visionary American railroad developer, George Mortimer Pullman, revolutionised rail travel through innovative design and exceptional comfort. Around this time the Wagon-lits company, created the Orient Express – which was synonymous with luxury travel – they called their luxe carriages “Pullman” carriages. The name Pullman equated to luxury and to pioneering. People wanted to travel to see new sights, and to become invigorated by new experiences, they could go where they wish and they could explore the world in the luxury, comfort and safety in the Pullman train carriages.

It was a mindset that drove them to discover new things, new challenges, and new things in the world. The colours of the cities, the clothes, the food and the spices, the vitality of the markets. It was the centre of the world, it was exotic, they were exposed to new foods, new herbs, spices and aromas, and they could meet people from all over the world. They were pioneers, and it was an example of the mindset of travel : I want to see and experience the world.

Nothing has really changed – our motivation for travelling and seeing the world is the same. Over a century later, this vision remains at the heart of the Pullman brand.

Mortimer’s, inspired by George Mortimer Pullman, will be known for its relaxed atmosphere and gin cocktails. A modern take on a gin bar with a nod to the glamour and service of old school hotels, Mortimer’s is a welcoming space designed for relaxing with a great drink in hand.

Our bespoke Mortimer’s Gin, made in partnership with Tiny Bear Distillery and the Pullman Albert Park. The aim is to make the moments count at Mortimer’s. The refined yet unpretentious bar situated alongside the hotel’s impressive Atrium Lobby, invites guests to stop for a moment, or a whole evening.
