Living Together at UniLodge Wodonga East End

Proactive Communication

Living with someone requires a balance of mutual respect, cooperation, and consideration. The best way to create this atmosphere? Proactive communication, which is the essential foundation for successful roommate relationships - really, for all relationships!

TOPICS OF CONVERSATION

Get to know each other to cut down on the feeling of living with a "stranger."

- ▶ Where are each of you from?
- ▶ What do you each like to do for fun?

If you already know each other, then get reacquainted. Catch up on what classes you'll be taking, activities you'll be involved with and jobs you might be starting.

Discuss right away what each of you wants and needs in order to live together peacefully - don't wait until a problem comes up. Some examples:

- ▶ How do each of you like to study; with background music/TV on or in total silence?
- ▶ What about your sleeping styles; do you need the room as dark as possible or is some light OK?
- ▶ What sets you off?

By the way, this step is crucial with any roommate, whether you've just met or are friends who have known each other for years. In fact, many students find living with a friend can be tough at times - they can get nervous speaking up about issues for fear of losing a close friend. Ironing out these details at the start can help you avoid or minimise many problems.

TIP: It's a good idea to write down what each of you needs and agrees to. This is known as your Roommate Agreement. You can refer to it later if you ever need to remind yourselves of what was said.

YOU CAN BE FRIENDLY WITHOUT BEING FRIENDS

While it can be great when roommates are also friends, don't expect that to happen. The main goals are for you to live together peacefully and respect one another. Ultimately, that's what makes a true roommate relationship work.

Resolving Conflicts

Don't be discouraged if a roommate is doing something that bothers you, or vice versa. This is inevitable at some point in any shared living arrangement. Make note of these Do's and Don'ts to address situations most effectively...

DO:

- Bring concerns up right away
- Use "I" statements to describe how you feel
- Avoid generalizing behaviors unfairly with words like "always" or "never"
- Be specific so your roommate understands exactly what you need

DON'T:

- Drop hints; many people won't pick up on them and you'll get frustrated
- Resort to social media or text message; be discreet yet direct
- Delay bringing up an important issue; you'll only get more upset
- Bring up a long list of issues all at once and overwhelm your roommate

SAMPLE STATEMENTS

DO SAY:

"I have a hard time sleeping with bright lights on. Could you please use your desk lamp after midnight instead of the ceiling light?"

Very clear and fair.

DON'T SAY:

"Ugh, I'm so tired, I haven't been able to get a good night's sleep all week"

Too vague.

"You're always so rude! You don't even care that I haven't slept well for a week!"

Too heated. Plus, it sounds like other issues besides sleep have been bothering you. Bottling things up until you explode won't help anyone.

CAN'T I JUST SWITCH ROOMS?

Seems like the obvious solution, doesn't it? Not so fast. Not only can space on campus be limited, but roommate conflicts will follow you if you're not willing to anticipate them beforehand and resolve them once they happen. Many students are surprised when room changes don't solve their problems - sometimes, things are worse! Try working it out with your current roommate(s). If there's no improvement, speak with residential life staff for assistance.

Multishare Cleaning

Once a week, the kitchen and lounge room areas of multishare apartments will be cleaned by professional cleaners. Cleaners will be addressing the following areas:

- Stovetop
- Microwave
- Glass splashback
- Living area floor

You will be notified of the cleaning schedule for your apartment after you have moved in. The cost of this service is included in your fees.

Residents will still be responsible for:

- Disposing of any rubbish (including old food)

- Cleaning bedrooms
- Cleaning bathrooms
- Spills in the fridge
- Wiping everyday surfaces (such as the bench, table, coffee table, shelves around the TV).
- Washing dishes

Compulsory Departure Cleaning

Your Room has been professionally cleaned and fitted with new mattress protector and shower curtain prior to your arrival. These items are yours to take with you when you leave if you wish. Prior to departure, a $100 compulsory cleaning fee will be charged to your account. This fee must be paid at reception prior to your departure. This fee covers the cost of:

- a professional clean
- replacement shower curtain, and

Heating

There is a heater installed in your apartment. At no time should this be covered or obstructed in anyway. Clothing and laundry cannot be hung over the heater as this is a dangerous fire hazard.

Cleaning

A wipe over with a clean, soft damp cloth should be enough to keep all countertops and surfaces clean. Soiled surfaces or light stains are best removed with warm soapy water or with a common detergent, such as Mr. Muscle, Nifty Solvent or bathroom cleaner. Wax or other polishes are unnecessary and should not be used.

Appropriate Use of Kitchen Surfaces

When cooking utensils please use heat pads and cutting or chopping boards, as this could damage the countertops and surfaces. Sliding of heavy objects can cause scuffing of the surface. Residents will be charged for any damage that occurs or replacements to the countertop and surfaces. Residents are asked not to remove from their apartment any item or equipment that has been provided by Victoria Regional Student Accommodation.
