H2O LIFE. STYLE. RESORT.

Long Bay Hills, Turks and Caicos

WORTH TRAVELING FOR

Located on world-renowned Long Bay Beach in the Turks and Caicos, H2O Life. Style. Resort. is as its name suggests, surrounded by turquoise-hued water. This refreshing boutique-style property ranges from one-bedroom rooms to uber-private two-, three-, and four-bedroom penthouse suites overlooking the ocean.

HOTEL HIGHLIGHTS

Dreamy white furnishings and fabrics against the aquamarine sea, private beach access, and personal kite (surfing and kiteboarding) butlers. After (or in lieu of) kite class, dip into the ocean, lounge poolside, try your hand at pickleball, and enjoy spectacular sunsets (or sunrise yoga) from the rooftop terrace. Opt for a personal chef to prepare meals, or cook yourself with ingredients from the pre-stocked groceries awaiting upon arrival.

THE RANCH AT LAGUNA BEACH

Laguna Beach, California

WORTH TRAVELING FOR

Canyon meets the sea at uber-private The Ranch at Laguna Beach. Set on 87 acres of rugged canyon, creek, coastline, and organic gardens — the ranch showcases a modern, coastal-chic design by Laurie Alter (a Laguna Beach native) and founder of Tuvalu Design, while giving nod to its historic legacy via vintage photo displays.

HOTEL HIGHLIGHTS

Airy suites, Tuvalu-designed furniture, and heated saline pool. Hike the local canyon trails, walk to nearby Aliso Beach, slip into the spa for a cryo (cold therapy) or gemstone facial, or play a round of golf. End the day over handcrafted cocktails, grass-fed beef, or market fish at Harvest.
