- Deposit and Cancellation Policy: A one (1) night deposit is required at time of booking or within 48 hours of confirmation to avoid automatic cancellation. Any cancellations received within fourteen (14) days prior to arrival will forfeit the one night's deposit. "No Shows" will forfeit the deposit.
- Payment Policy: Proper photo identification is required at time of check-in (government issued ID or valid passport), All reservations must be guaranteed with a deposit payment at the time of booking; the credit card must match the primary registered guest's name and the cardholder must be present at time of check-in. Upon arrival, an authorization hold will be placed on your credit card for the remaining balances due (including taxes and incidental charges), plus the required security/damage deposit of $75.00 USD per day. Please note that additional authorizations may be taken if these funds are utilized during your stay. Credit cards are preferred and highly recommended. If you choose to use your debit card, the hotel will request funds from your bank account. Your funds may NOT be accessible by you for up to 21 business days (longer for foreign banks) after your departure; this may adversely affect your account balance. Although the hotel releases any unused funds upon check-out, your bank may still choose to take 7-21 business days (longer for foreign banks) to release these funds back to your account. The effect on your bank account is not the same as a credit card "hold" or authorization. Kā'anapali Beach Hotel will not be held responsible for the amount of time it takes your bank to return your funds or for any fees that may be associated with these funds being held.
- Late Check Out: A late check-out may be available for guests requesting this service. You may inquire with our Front Office staff the evening before your departure for our current availability and the cost of the applicable late check-out fee.
