SILKS GLOSSARY

The Differences of Dim Sum and Dim Sim

Dim Sum is an umbrella term that refers to the range of small, bite-sized portions of Chinese food that is often served at restaurants that offer Yum Cha. Dim Sum dishes can be prepared in a variety of ways, from, steamed, fried, or baked and area typically served on small plates or inside bamboo steamers. Examples of Dim Sum classics are BBQ Pork buns, Siu Mai.

Dim Sim is the name of a Chinese-inspired snack that is shaped like a Siu Mai i.e. a Cylinder of meat and vegetables filling, partially wrapped in pastry. Although the appearances are similar, Dim Sims and Siu Mai have different ingredients and taste completely different to one another. Dim Sims are usually served either steamed or fried and can come in a variety of fillings, with the most popular being pork and cabbage. They have become extremely popular in Australia as a snack and are sometimes referred to as "Dimmie's".

What Does "XO" Sauce Stand For?

The sauce originated in Hong Kong in the 1980s. Its name comes from XO (or extra old) cognac, considered supremely luxurious. XO sauce is the most valuable Cantonese condiment, with various umami flavours concentrated from dried scallops, Jinhua ham, and dried shrimps.

Why is it Called "Peking duck"

The fall of the Yuan Dynasty in 1368 brought about many changes in China and paved way for the rise of the Ming Dynasty. By this time, the recipe took on the name "Peking Duck", named for the capital city in China (now more commonly referred to as Beijing).
