“The Highland Games in New Hampshire draw one of the largest attendances in the world, allowing us to provide a welcoming retreat for visitors from around the globe,” said Joel Bourassa, General Manager of Eagle Mountain House & Golf Club. “In addition to outstanding service, accommodations, and amenities, visitors staying with us will get to enjoy scenic mountain views while on-property and traveling to the games each day.”

Eagle Mountain House is an easy 45 miles away from the games with a beautiful drive through the White Mountains on the Kancamagus Highway, a nationally designated scenic highway. In addition to offering guests one of the best fall foliage viewing areas in the world, the nationally recognized byway provides travelers rich history and natural beauty as they drive through the White Mountains, Swift River, Lower Falls, Sabbaday Falls and the Rocky Gorge.

Surrounded by the 800,000-acre White Mountain National Forest, the 19th-century Eagle Mountain House & Golf Club has been a popular haven of blissful mountain living since 1879. A Historic Hotel of America, the resort is one of the area’s few remaining Grand Hotels, with easy access to the nearby attractions, shops and restaurants of Jackson, New Hampshire, and the entire scenic Mt. Washington Valley. The timeless hotel continues to welcome generations of guests with its captivating garden, mountain, and river view accommodations, 9-hole golf course, and award-winning Eagle Landing Tavern, all in an idyllic mountain setting. About Eagle Mountain House & Golf Club

Surrounded by the nearly 800,000-acre White Mountain National Forest, the Eagle Mountain House & Golf Club is a haven for visitors seeking the outdoor bliss of mountain life. The historic 1879 resort is located near the attractions, shops and restaurants of Jackson, New Hampshire, and features relaxing accommodations with garden, mountain or river views. The newly renovated Carriage House is an ideal location for private events featuring a large outdoor covered porch with a 3,000-square-foot stone patio featuring a gas fire pit and sweeping views of the White Mountains. The signature and award-winning Eagle Landing Tavern brings a local twist to classic comfort foods, serving breakfast, lunch and dinner with both indoor and outdoor terrace dining. A Historic Hotel of America, the 19th-century hotel embraces New England's four seasons with year-round activities. In addition to its own 9-hole course, the lodge is convenient to the area's best outdoor adventures from hiking and kayaking, to fishing, zipline tours and the best cross-country skiing in the eastern US. From the historic details in the hotel to the cascading Wildcat River falls, Eagle Mountain House & Golf Club is also prized as one of the most picturesque wedding venues in the White Mountains.
